TAMLIN BLAKE

(b. 1974 Johannesburg, South Africa)

Tamlin Blake is a professional multi-media South African artist. A central theme of Blake's work is a concern with cross-cultural South African symbols of wealth and status. More recently she has focused her work on what constitutes and underpins each individual's sense of belonging and identity as she became influenced by her rural surroundings and the communities who live and work there. A prominent aspect of Blake's practice is her fascination with materials and manipulating new mediums in ways which take them past the merely decorative or prosaic. Blake was instrumental in developing specialised beading techniques now used by Qaqambile Bead Studio in Cape Town in collaboration with various contemporary South African artists.

Her own work currently consists of tapestries, woven from re-cycled hand-spun newspaper and working with acrylic paint in a way which uses its plasticity to create textured surfaces that closely resemble beadwork and textiles. She also works closely with various studios including the Spier Artisan Studio and The Keiskamma Arts Project to help produce collative works in mosaic and embroidery belonging to the Spier Arts Trust of which she is also the chief curator.

Tamlin Blake holds a Masters Degree in Fine Art from the University of Stellenbosch. She has had nine solo exhibitions to date, the most recent being at Everard Read Franschhoek entitled Treading Lightly. In 2019 her large-scale tapestry piece Tied By Time commissioned by Spier, was exhibited at Everard Read Johannesburg's CIRCA gallery and again at the African American Museum, Dallas, Texas, USA (2023) and now the Newcomb Art Museum of Tulane, New Orleans (2025). She has also exhibited extensively in group shows nationally and internationally. Her work was included in the Synergy exhibition of contemporary bead art at Iziko Michaelis Collection (2005-06), the South African Art: Signs exhibition held at Danubiana Meulensteen Art Museum in Bratislava (2007) and the Skin-to-Skin: Challenging Textile Art show, which formed part of the Kaunas Art Biennial TEXTILE 07 in Lithuania (2007). Her work was exhibited at the Spier Contemporary Exhibition (2008), included in the South African Pavilion at the World Expo 2010 Shanghai China and presented as a Spier Special Project at the FNB Joburg Art Fair in 2012. In 2003 she received the Brett Kebble Merit Award and in 2011 she was invited to the Frans Masereel Centre in Belgium for an artist's residency. Her work can be found in various permanent corporate and public collections.
